Bronco Baseball camps are run by Northgate Baseball's head coach, Jon Campopiano. Campopiano is in his 7th season as a varsity head coach and has been a baseball instructor for nearly 20 years. While the coach at Northgate from 1999-2002, Campopiano led the team to the NCS post-season each season and reached the NCS Championship Game in 2001. Campopiano has helped dozens of his players play baseball at the next level (Junior College, Division III, Division II, and Division I) and has been directing summer camps for over ten years. Campopiano is assisted at the camps by his Northgate coaches and players.

Bronco Baseball camps are designed for youth who are looking to have fun, improve their baseball fundamentals, and learn new baseball skills from high school baseball coaches. Each day at camp players will work on their hitting, fielding, throwing, and base running skills, and pitchers will have the opportunity to improve their mechanics as well. Besides individual instruction, the players will have the opportunity to compete in games and fun competitive events that will help hone their skills and improve their game awareness and competitive spirit.
